The background of the entire page is a photograph of two construction cranes silhouetted against a vibrant sunset sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm orange and yellow glow. In the foreground, the silhouettes of grass and the cranes are visible. The large number '2025' is superimposed on the lower half of the image, with the sun appearing as if it is rising behind the '0' and '2'.

CANADIAN CONSTRUCTION DOCUMENTS COMMITTEE (CCDC)

Canadian Construction Documents Committee
Comité canadien des documents de construction

WHAT IS CCDC?

The Canadian Construction Documents Committee (CCDC) develops, produces, and reviews standard construction contracts, forms and guides. It is a national joint committee, formed in 1974, and includes representation from across the Canadian construction industry.

The committee includes two construction owner representatives from each of the public and private sectors, as well as representatives from four national organizations.

CCDC representation also includes a lawyer from the Canadian Bar Association (Construction Law Section), who sits as an ex-officio member.

BENEFITS OF CCDC DOCUMENTS

CCDC documents are used in contractual arrangements across the Canadian construction industry. They provide cost savings through balanced standard contract forms and help to ensure standardization for bidding and contracting procedures. Each year, more than 50,000 copies of CCDC documents are sold.

By using uniformed and standardized documents from CCDC, practitioners in the Canadian construction industry are using documents that are:

- Relied upon as familiar industry standards,
- Developed through a collaborative and consensus-based approach that allows for the serious consideration of rights, interests and obligations of all parties,
- Protect the interest and preserve the rights of all parties involved in a construction project, and
- Provide balance, uniformity and standardization for bidding and contracting procedures.

CCDC documents can help reduce claims and disputes, and the added expense and time associated.
